7 ("CERVANTES"), CARLOS DEJESUS-CERVANTES ("DEJESUS-CERVANTES"), 8 MAYRA ALEJANDRA FAJARDO ("FAJARDO"), ARELY ALBARRAN-SILVA 9 ("SILVA"), and others were members and associates of an 10 organization engaged in, among other things, murder, conspiracy 11 to commit murder, attempted murder, conspiracy to traffic in 12 narcotics, narcotics-trafficking, robbery, extortion, money 13 laundering, and witness intimidation. At all relevant times, 14 this organization, known as the "Avenues" gang, which includes 15 its "Drew Street" gang members, operated in the Central District 16 of California and elsewhere. The Avenues gang, including its 17 leadership, membership, and associates, constituted an 18 "enterprise," as defined by Title 18, United States Code, Section 19 1961(4), that is a group of individuals associated in fact. The 20 enterprise engaged in, and its activities affected, interstate 21 and foreign commerce. The enterprise constituted an ongoing 22 organization whose members functioned as a continuing unit for a 23 common purpose of achieving the objectives of the enterprise.

BACKGROUND OF THE AVENUES AND DREW STREET GANG

2. The Avenues gang is a multi-generational street gang that was formed in the 1940s and claims the area roughly between Colorado Boulevard to the North, the 3200 Block of Griffin Street to the East, San Fernando Road to the South, and Drew Street to the West as its "territory" in Northeast Los Angeles. The Avenues Gang is divided into a number of smaller groups, or "cliques," based on geography and associations in the neighborhood controlled by the gang. The original Avenues cliques were the Cypress Avenues, the Avenues Assassins, and Avenues 43rds. Tagging crews of juveniles also align with this gang and typically serve as a recruiting base for new members.

3. The Avenues gang has been traditionally loyal and committed to "Mexican Mafia," also known as "La Eme." Avenues leaders frequently extort money from local drug traffickers, members of other gangs, prostitutes, residents, and persons who maintain businesses in the area controlled by the gang. Avenues gang members also frequently intimidate, threaten and assault persons in the area as a means to intimidate and control the people in their neighborhoods, including potential witnesses who would testify in court about their crimes. Their crimes typically include acts of violence, ranging from battery to murder, drug-trafficking offenses, witness intimidation, alien smuggling, weapons-trafficking and, very frequently, hate crimes directed against African-American persons who might attempt to reside or be present in the areas controlled by the gang. Members frequently conduct robberies as a means to generate funds for the larger organization and Avenues hierarchy.

1 4. The Drew Street gang is a recently formed clique within 2 the Avenues gang. The Drew Street gang is part of the Avenues
3 gang, and it is authorized by the Avenues and the Mexican Mafia 4 (aka, "La Eme") to control the area of Northeast Los Angeles in 5 the neighborhood surrounding the intersection of Drew Street and 6 Estara Avenue. The Drew Street clique of the Avenues gang is 7 headed by defendant F. REAL, and he is authorized by the Avenues 8 and the Mexican Mafia to act as the "shot-caller" for the Drew 9 Street gang. The Drew Street gang is actively and continually 10 engaged in the distribution of cocaine base in the form of crack 11 cocaine ("crack cocaine"), methamphetamine, and other narcotic
12 drugs. In particular, Drew Street gang leaders obtain narcotic 13 drugs and control the distribution of narcotic drugs by providing 14 "street-level" distribution amounts (typically a few grams of 15 crack cocaine at a time) to numerous Drew Street gang members and 16 associates in the area controlled by the Drew Street gang. The 17 Drew Street gang leaders, in turn, collect extortion payments, 18 referred to as "taxes," from drug traffickers. The Drew Street 19 gang also extorts payment from persons who live and maintain 20 businesses in the area controlled by the gang. Members extract 21 payment under threat of physical violence, including the threat 22 that individuals who do not adhere to the gang's demands will be 23 "green-lighted" by the Mexican Mafia, that is, they will be 24 targeted for murder.

25 5. A portion of the "taxes" collected by the Avenues and 26 Drew Street gang leaders is then owed to the Mexican Mafia, and 27 the leaders are required to make payments to representatives of 28 the Mexican Mafia in the area, who, in turn, deliver payment to 1 members of the Mexican Mafia leadership incarcerated within the 2 California prison system. Avenues and Drew Street gang members 3 also raise funds for the organization by conducting armed home-4 invasion robberies, in which they target individuals believed to 5 maintain large sums of cash or valuables in their homes.

6 6. Members of the Drew Street gang enforce the authority of 7 the gang to commit its crimes by directing acts of violence and 8 retaliation against non-compliant drug-traffickers and rival gang 9 members. The organization also directs attacks against law 10 enforcement officers and witnesses who would be willing to 11 cooperate with law enforcement for the prosecution of the crimes 12 committed by members of the Drew Street gang. The Drew Street 13 gang includes approximately 500 members and controls narcotics 14 trafficking, violent crimes, and other activity in the area 15 around the intersection of Drew Street and Estara Avenue in Los 16 Angeles, California. The Drew Street gang ordinarily is vigilant 17 to the presence of "outsiders," or persons not immediately known 18 to the gang, who may intentionally or inadvertently attempt to 19 enter the territory controlled by the gang. Gang members are 20 likely to identify such persons and physically threaten or kill 21 them. The organization also is hostile to the presence of 22 African-Americans in Drew Street gang territory.

23 7. The Drew Street and Avenues gang members generally 24 identify one another through the use of hand gestures, or gang 25 "signs." They typically display the letters "A" for Avenues or 26 the interlocking "L-A" for "Los Avenidas." Members frequently 27 wear the "Skull Camp" or "Skull Wear" brand clothing to identify 28 themselves as members and associates of Drew Street and the 1 Avenues gang. The clothing depicts images of human skulls in 2 various forms, such as a human skull depicted as part of the logo 3 for the Oakland Raiders football team and, in particular, the 4 depiction of a human skull wearing a fedora hat. Gang members 5 frequently refer to one another as "skulls" and wear baseball 6 caps for teams whose insignia includes an "A" or "L-A," for 7 Avenues and Los Avenidas. Gang tattoos, gang names, and slogans 8 are also used to identify members and territory controlled by the 9 gang. The Drew Street gang also uses spray-painting, or 10 "tagging," as a sign that demonstrates its control of the area

11 against rival gang members and the local community. Gang 12 "tagging" frequently appears on street signs, walls, buildings, 13 and portions of the 110 Freeway, Interstate 5, and Highway 2 in 14 the areas controlled by the gang. Rival gang members risk 15 violence from the gang if they attempt to "tag" within the Drew 16 Street or Avenues-controlled territory. Drew Street gang members 17 will frequently tag or display the number "3200," which 18 identifies the block number at the intersection of Drew Street 19 and Estara Avenue. Members will also often use the number 13 in 20 various forms (i.e., 13, X3, or XIII) to demonstrate loyalty to 21 the Mexican Mafia ("m" being the 13th letter in the alphabet) and 22 that the gang has "sureno" (Southern California) loyalty. The 23 letters "NELA" are used to identify Northeast Los Angeles gang 24 members, and the number 187 is frequently used by the gang to 25 take "credit" for a murder that has been committed by the gang.

26 8. The Avenues and Drew Street gang members maintain a 27 ready supply of firearms, including handguns, shotguns, automatic 28 assault rifles, and machineguns, in order to enforce the

1 authority of the gang. Such weapons typically are stolen or 2 unregistered, so that the use of the weapons cannot be readily 3 connected to the gang member who either used the weapon or 4 maintained it. Weapons often are discarded or destroyed after an 5 incident. Therefore, gang leaders frequently need to maintain a 6 source of supply for additional unregistered or non-traceable 7 firearms. The Avenues gang, including Drew Street, also controls 8 the activities of its members and enforces its authority and 9 internal discipline by killing, attempting to kill, conspiring to 10 kill, assaulting, and threatening its own members or others who 11 would present a threat to the enterprise.

12 9. Leaders of the Avenues gang, including Drew Street gang 13 leaders, recruit and initiate juveniles to join the gang and 14 direct them to commit acts of violence and drug-trafficking 15 crimes on behalf of the gang. New members frequently are 16 recruited through their participation in a younger "tagging" unit 17 or from a different sect of the larger organization. New members 18 ordinarily are then "jumped in" to the gang. This initiation 19 process ordinarily requires that the new member is physically 20 beaten by senior, established members of the gang and must 21 demonstrate his resilience during the beating. The new member is 22 then rewarded and frequently provided with a firearm and 23 narcotics.

24 10. Females are commonly disparaged and addressed 25 derisively in the gang. Female associates, however, are 26 frequently active in narcotics trafficking, as well as the 27 collection and transfer of "tax" payments and narcotics proceeds.
28 Female associates also play an integral role in directing and

1 maintaining communications within the organization, in particular 2 communications with incarcerated gang members and leaders of the 3 organization.

4 PURPOSES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5 11. The purposes of the Avenues gang, including its Drew 6 Street members and associates, include, but are not limited to, 7 the following:

8 a. Enriching members of the Avenues and Drew Street 9 gang through, among other things, control of and participation in 10 the distribution of narcotics in the territory controlled by the 11 Avenues and the Drew Street gang.

12 b. Maintaining the control and authority of the 13 Avenues gang and its Drew Street members over Drew Street and 14 Avenues territory.

15 c. Preserving, protecting, and expanding the power of 16 the Avenues and Drew Street gang through the use of intimidation, 17 violence, threats of violence, assault, and murder.

18 d. Promoting and enhancing the authority of the 19 Avenues and Drew Street gang members and associates.

20 THE MEANS AND METHODS OF THE ENTERPRISE

21 12. The means and methods by which the defendants and their 22 co-racketeers conduct and participate in the conduct of the 23 affairs of the Avenues gang, including its Drew Street members 24 and associates, include:

25 a. Members of the Avenues, including Drew Street gang 26 members, commit, attempt, and threaten to commit acts of 27 violence, including murder, to protect and expand the 28 enterprise's criminal operation, which includes assaults, murder,

1 intimidation and threats of violence directed against rival gang 2 members, law enforcement, and witnesses in criminal cases.

3 b. Members of the Avenues, including Drew Street gang 4 members, promote a climate of fear through violence and threats 5 of violence.

6 c. To enforce the authority of the Avenues and Drew 7 Street gang, members use the enterprise to murder, attempt to 8 murder, assault, and threaten those who pose a threat to the 9 enterprise.

10 d. Participants in the Avenues, including Drew Street
11 gang members, engage in the trafficking of controlled substances 12 as a means to generate income.
